Continuation of 13. Other: Claim 1 must be amended to claim the fastener within the pocket as being in the pouch portion of the pocket in order to avoid confusion that the fasteners are part of a pocket flap etc. The weight should also be described as an exercise weight so that it is not confused with a weighted prosthetic device to replicate a breast. Each independent claim should be amended as such. Claims 9 and 10 now contain new matter since the third through sixth fasteners have not been supported in the disclosure. In claim 13 there is no support in the specification that the pocket holds only the cold pack. The original disclosure claimed both the weight and the cold pack. The cold pack alone is not allowable. Therefore, the scope of claim 13 was changed in that the weight was removed. Because of the substnatial deficient changes the amendment was not entered.
